IS HOSPICE CARE RIGHT FOR MY FAMILY?

Many families share at least two primary concerns when considering hospice care: “When is the right time?” and “Does it mean we’re giving up?”

Knowing When to Call
Hospice of Cincinnati care is not just for the final days or weeks of a patient’s life. In fact, the only regret many families have after calling us is that they didn’t contact us sooner.

It’s never too early to learn how Hospice of Cincinnati can benefit your loved one and your family. We can help you recognize the advanced signs of hospice need, and make recommendations that will allow a more comfortable transition for the patient and the entire family.

Choosing Hospice Care Does Not Mean Giving Up
Some people believe that the decision to bring in hospice caregivers implies the patient or family is “giving up.”

“The hospice you choose can really make a difference. I’m so glad we chose Hospice of Hamilton.”

Debbie – Hamilton

One common misconception about choosing hospice care is that it means there is no hope. It is important to remember that symptom management and overall care does not stop when Hospice of Cincinnati becomes part of the care plan; they simply take on a different focus. Instead of aggressive treatment, the focus of the care plan becomes one of comfort, support and embracing life. Some patients have actually been discharged from hospice care because their symptoms improve.

Choosing hospice care is not “giving up.” Rather, it is giving the best care and support that anyone can offer at a very important, meaningful time.

HOSPICE OF CINCINNATI

Living with an illness or caring for a loved one who is seriously ill can be a hero, yet daunting task — emotionally, spiritually and physically. At Hospice of Cincinnati, we understand. That’s why we empower families and patients to choose from a variety of services that can be tailored to the needs of every unique situation.

These services are covered by Medicare, Medicaid and most private insurance plans, so they are not only affordable, but they are uniquely designed to support both patients and families. They include:

• 24/7 access to experienced RNs, licensed nurses and hospice aides who bring personalization, compassionate care directly to the patient’s home
• Medical equipment and supplies such as hospital beds, wheelchairs, oxygen, bandages, etc.
• Heartfelt support and help with identifying resources from our experienced team of social workers and chaplains
• Timely delivery of — and payment for — medications for symptom control, pain relief and/or anxiety
• Compassionate, trained volunteers to assist patients and family members
• Holistic services such as healing touch and massage, art, music and pet therapy for increased patient comfort and support

Our patients are always at the center of our care. We also understand the importance of the patient’s “inner circle” in providing care and support. This inner circle may consist of family, friends, neighbors and the faith community.
